

PHOTO CONTEST

Due April 16, 2010

Ever wonder who is black San Diego? What does black San Diego look like? The San Diego Association of Black Journalists wants to know what YOU think represents the faces, experiences and lives of African Americans or people of African descent in San Diego.

Professional photographers are invited to participate as are students, amateur photographers and members of the community with a good eye and a perspective to share or story to tell. Participants are encouraged to take pictures across San Diego County that illustrate a range of themes. Top photos will be posted on sdabj.org and selected by local professionals.

Judge 1 - David Poller, former photo editor at Union Tribune

Judge 2 - David Brooks, multimedia editor Union Tribune

Judge 3 - Khari Johnson, freelance writer, photographer and video producer

Finalists will be invited to attend the SDABJ's annual scholarship reception April 23 where the top photos will be on-display and gift certificates awarded to George's Camera, $150, $100 and $50 for first, second and third place winners respectively.

E-mail submissions to sdabjphotocontest@gmail.com at 300 dpi and 12x18 dimensions. Include a few sentence caption for each photo. To learn more about the SDABJ or become a member, visit sdabj.org.
